

British Columbia Among Fastest-Growing Tech Talent Hubs in Canada

Between 2017 and 2022, Vancouver experienced a 69% tech talent growth rate, making it one of the fastest-growing tech talent hubs in North America.

INDUSTRY STARS CALL BC HOME

BC'S TECH INDUSTRY AT A GLANCE

*FROM: BC TECH ASSOCIATION

220,000

Directly Employed

15,000

Job Openings Each Year

$22 Billion

Domestic GDP

11,000

Companies in the Industry

51,000 +

Software Developer & Programmer Jobs Supported

FROM: CBRE REPORT, 2023

Annual Salary in British Columbia

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

Average

$60,028

Top Earners

$89,000

SR. SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

Average

$111,014

Top Earners

$174,868

FROM: ZIPRECRUITER 2023

The BC Tech Scene

With a thriving tech ecosystem, the province boasts a booming job market, competitive salaries, and an exceptional quality of life. From innovative startups to global tech giants, BC welcomes tech talent with open arms.

In 2022, BC's tech industry grew 2X faster than the rest of BC's economy.

Software developers saw a 33% increase in average wage between 2017 and 2022.

Vancouver holds 2nd place in Canada's start-up ecosystem ranking.

Currently, the wages for tech workers in BC exceed the provincial average by 75%.

↑ 119%

Number of software developers employed in British Columbia between 2017 and 2022.

FROM: CBRE REPORT, 2023